Hawkish pause; monsoon to hold key

India's GDP data confirmed that economic growth remains on firm ground. RBI in its latest policy also reaffirmed its bullish outlook on growth and expects the strength to continue in Q1FY24 as well. High frequency data for May'23 (port cargo, vehicle registration, toll collections, PMIs, air passenger traffic) supports this. RBI also cautioned that it will closely monitor the price trajectory, as it aims to bring back inflation to targeted 4%. This slightly hawkish stance led to marginal increase in 10Y yield. Globally as well, central banks are sounding hawkish alarm bells (RBA, Central Bank of Canada). All eyes are now on Fed, which is likely to pause in Jun'23. Oil prices remain range bound as concerns of slowing global demand outweigh benefits from production cut by OPEC+ members.

Demand continues to showcase resilience: Robust consumption demand was registered in Q1FY24 as reflected by high frequency indicators including, auto sales, manufacturing PMI (31-month high) and domestic air passenger traffic. UPI payments remained steady, though deceleration in electricity demand and non-oil-non-gold imports will be monitored. RBI's consumers confidence index signalled optimism. On rural front, two wheeler sales recorded double digit growth (MoM). Government hiked MSP of all the crops, in the range of 5-10%, with the exception of cotton. With the arrival of monsoon, focus is expected to shift towards distribution of rainfall.

Centre's finances: Union government managed to meet its fiscal deficit (% of GDP) target of 6.4% for FY23, supported by better than expected revenue growth, and despite miss in disinvestment target. Overshooting of expenditure by certain ministries (subsidy bill, finance), was met by cuts in other ministries (agri, rural development.). In FY24, statistical base is at play, resulting in negative revenue growth in Apr'23. Gross tax revenues are down by (-) 6.1% versus 36.5% increase in Apr'22 and net revenue is down by (-) 13.9% versus 41.1% increase in Apr'22. For the same reason, expenditure growth is also showing moderation (10.6% in Apr'23 versus 21.2% in Apr'22). Capex is down by (-) 0.6% versus 67.5% jump recorded in Apr'22. On the other hand, revenue spending seems to be holding ground, registering 15.2% increase following 9.1% rise in Apr'22.

India's 10Y yield to remain rangebound: India's 10Y yield fell by 13bps in May'23, whereas global yields were on an upswing especially UK and US as macro signals gave confusing view on rate trajectory. In Jun'23, India's 10Y yield rose by 3bps, especially post policy increase was seen as Governor's tone reflected a hawkish pause. Cautiousness reined over inflation while bullishness on growth prevailed. We no longer foresee rate cut in Q3FY24. The earliest possibility of cut has now shifted to Feb'24. We expect India's 10Y yield to remain in the range of 6.95-7.05% in the current month. Downside risk may persist from a comfortable CPI print in May'23 (our est.: 4.5%).

INR likely to remain range-bound: In May'23, INR was under pressure amidst uncertainty around the Fed policy. This was despite lower oil prices and resurgent FPI inflows. Support also came from likely FX intervention by the RBI, which helped keep INR in a tight range, even as DXY rose by 2.6% in May'23. In Jun'23, with investors paring back expectations of a rate hike by Fed, dollar strength has once again come under question. Oil prices have also remained stable despite output cut by OPEC+. FPI inflows have also continued. Hence, we expect INR to continue to trade in the range of 82-83/$ in the near-term.
